Mrs. Montague Discharge as Art Project Supervisor Explained By Participants

FREDERICK BECHDOLT, director of Monterey county's SERA deeply resents the statement of The Pine Cone last week that Nellie Montague was "dishonorably discharged" as supervisor of the art project. So do Mrs. Montague's friends. Mrs. Montague, who released the story to The Pine Cone, still feels that in being discharged without adequate explanation, the dismissal was tantamount to dishonorable discharge.

By telephone last Thursday, Mr. Bechdolt told Mrs. Montague that he would be obliged to dispense with her services forthwith. Mrs. Montague states that when she asked for the reason, Mr. Bechdolt told her that he would confirm the discharge by letter, and that in that letter he would state the reasons. When she told The Pine Cone of this circumstance, she said, she understood that such a letter was already in the mail.

Mrs. Montague made the following statement to The Pine Cone this week:

"I refute all oral accusations. I demand specific charges and proofs. Regarding efficiency, the murals in the projects which I have supervised for the past six months are done at one-fourth the cost of published government estimates. I have handled no funds. The book-keeping has been done by the two sponsors, the Presidio of Monterey and the Monterey Union High School. The expenditures stayed within the original sums allocated."

Emotional Outburst

The only tangible explanation that has been given to Mrs. Montague for her discharge from a project that has been called the outstanding project in Monterey county, was that her method of filling in a "weekly progress report" on an SERA official form, had been unsatisfactory. As she recalls it, she was first introduced to this particular form on Feb. 28; when a sample copy was filled out for her guidance. After sending in several of these reports, she received a letter from John Lane, project engineer, stating that this record was not in satisfactory form. She called on Mr. Lane in his office for further instructions, and received no explanation, but an emotional outburst in the course of which she was told that she was "totally inefficient, totally noncooperative." When she pressed Mr. Lane for specific charges, Mrs. Montague says, she received only a reiteration of these general accusations.

Bechdolt Statement

Mr. Bechdolt in calling attention to the fact that The Pine Cone used the words "dishonorably discharged" in referring to Mrs. Montague's dismissal, stated that no person in the organization had used this term, and that they had been embodied in no letter. The only communication regarding the discharge, he said, was his telephone conversation with Mrs. Montague.

"As head of the local organization," said Mr. Bechdolt, "You will remember that I preferred that the matter not be given any publicity" (referring to a conversation with a Pine Cone representative last Thursday). "I wish it made clear that the story did not originate in this office. My statement, which you quoted, was given only after I had been assured that Mrs. Montague herself had released the story." Mr. Bechdolt further stated that he would state reasons for Mrs. Montague's discharge only if instructed to do so by the San Francisco SERA office.

"Mrs. Montague," he said, "was a paid employee of the government on the SERA program at a salary of $27.50 a week, the largest salary that any project supervisor on our rolls received. Under the rules of our organization as laid down by the state office it became necessary to issue a separation order discharging her from her position."

Edward Weston Will Photograph Erosion of Soil

Sonya Noskowiak, who has been working with Edward Weston for the past five years, and Sybil Aniekeff, his disciple for the past two years, will continue to use the Edward Weston studio in Seven Arts court for their own photographic work, during Mr. Weston's absence. He will leave sometime this spring on a year's commission under the Department of the Interior, making photographic studies of soil erosion. The microscopic accuracy which Weston has developed in the interest of art is also scientifically valuable, and so the government has chosen him for an important task. His headquarters will continue to be in Carmel, and it is probable that he will return here after completing this work.

Miss Noskowiak and Mrs. Aniekeff will open a joint exhibition of their camera portraits at the Denny-Watrous Gallery May 15.

Last Chance for 50-Cent Clinic

To give Carmel residents a last opportunity to have dogs and cats immunized here at home without having to visit veterinarians over the hill, another 50-cent clinic will be held at the fire house from noon until 6 o'clock tomorrow. It is now compulsory to have domestic pets inoculated against rabies, and before measures are taken to round up recalcitrants, pet-owners are being urged to come forward voluntarily tomorrow. The health department has not yet announced what steps it will take to "crack down" after a brief period of grace, but it is known that 100 per cent immunization will be enforced in order that the rabies situation may be entirely cleared up before the summer season. The health department gives much credit to the ready cooperation of most of the public for the fact that the rabies epidemic has been kept well under control and has not spread more widely and disastrously.

Cast for Kuster's First Golden Bough Play Is Announced

The cast of the Viennese comedy, "By Candlelight," which will be the first play on the Golden Bough stage since it was turned over to motion pictures, has been announced as follows:

The Baron, Lloyd Weer; the valet, George McMenamin; the maid, Barbara Collins; the chauffeur, John Hodgkin; the Countess, Gabrielle Kuster; Fraulein Lulu, Mary Walser; the Count, Digby Smith; the waiter, Edward Kuster, who also directs the play.

"By Candlelight" will be performed late in May, to be followed by "The Little Clay Cart" on July 3 and 5.

Curb and Gutter Work Is Ahead of Schedule

Work on the building of the cobble-stone curb and gutter along Scenic Drive, Carmel's major SERA project, has made good progress this week and is now ahead of schedule, despite the fact that fewer men have been available than was anticipated, according to Street Commissioner Joseph A. Burge, who is the sponsor's representative inspecting the work daily. Only 13 men have been on the project this week. Because seasonal occupations have drawn men from the SERA roles, Mr. Burge said, Carmel is inclined to rejoice rather than to worry because headquarters has sent fewer men here than was expected.

However, excavation for the foundation wall at the foot of the cliffs has been brought to a standstill due to the shortage, and drifting sand may obliterate what has already been accomplished.

Founder of Forest Hill School, Mrs. Minna Steele Harper, Dies

AFTER a life-time dedicated to educational work in which she was eminently successful, Mrs. Minna Steele Harper died Monday at her home here. She was chiefly known to Carmel for her long connection with Forest Hill school, which she was instrumental in founding.

Born in Kansas, June 15, 1869, Mrs. Harper came west at an early age and grew up in Oregon City under the care of an aunt following the death of her mother. She is still remembered as one of the most beautiful and popular young women of her day in Oregon City. Following the death of her husband, Harry Harper, after only ten months of marriage, Mrs. Harper felt the need of some all-absorbing interest. Studying with Calvin Brainerd Cady, she fitted herself to teach music, and also followed as a life-long principal a tenet laid down by her music master, the Scriptural admonition, "He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much."

Coming to California, Mrs. Harper taught music for a number of years in Castilleja school at Palo Alto. There she began a series of European trips, conducting finishing students on tours, which she continued with Forest Hill pupils. In 1914 while continuing to live in Palo Alto, she opened a studio of music in San Francisco.

In association with Miss Mabel Spicker she founded the North Berkeley Outdoor School, a venture which was so successful that the school was moved three times into increasingly large quarters. The two educators visited Carmel periodically and brought summer classes here, as a result of which they finally made the village their permanent headquarters and established Forest Hill school in 1920. In 1921 the school was enlarged, and after 1929 Mrs. Harper, who had been principal, was also sole owner. She continued as active head of the school and an inspiring teacher until last year.

No close relatives survive Mrs. Harper, with the exception of first and second cousins including Mrs. Vernon Jayne and Frank Price of Palo Alto; Marshall Steele of Oakland and Mrs. Maude Pope Allyn of Portland. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Paul's Mortuary in Pacific Grove.

"Blessed Event" In S. F. for Randal Cockburns

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Randal Cockburn, early Thursday morning in San Francisco. The Cockburns drove north Wednesday afternoon, at the suggestion of their family physician, to consult a specialist. The baby arrived some days sooner than was anticipated, but is a fine 6-pound infant, and Mrs. Cockburn is reported to be doing well. Mrs. James L. Cockburn drove to San Francisco Thursday to see her new grand-daughter. Mrs. Sherman Winslow, Mrs. Cockburn's mother, arrived from Hollywood late yesterday afternoon.

TO BUILD NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph V. Whitting were in Carmel over the weekend, visiting their property in the Country Club on which they expect to build a home in the near future. They called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Watson while here. Mr. Whitting is Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge for the state of California.

League of Women Voters to Vote at June Session on Changing Name

MAY and June plans of the League of Women Voters were discussed at the monthly executive board meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ethel P. Young in Pebble Beach. At the June general meeting the members will be asked to vote on a resolution changing the name, The Monterey Peninsula League, to the Monterey County League of Women Voters, as the organization has extended its scope into the entire county.

For better centralization of study group activities, all groups, beginning next month, will meet Wednesdays at the Mission Inn in Monterey, with morning sessions from 11 to 1, afternoon groups meeting from 2 to 4. The one exception will be Mrs. Karl G. Rendtorff's group which will continue to meet in Carmel.

An important study meeting, the third Wednesday in May, with Mrs. George Schuyler in charge, will be devoted to study of the Stanford survey of the general organization of the Monterey Union High School district. When made five years ago, the district was found to be progressing along general lines recommended at that time. It is now thought wise to reconsider the survey, take stock of accomplishments, and determine whether the time has come for further progressive steps. School trustees, P-T. A. members and school officials will be asked to meet with the League's education group. The meeting place will be announced later.

The May general meeting, at Holman's solarium, will be in charge of Mrs. John P. Sandholdt, and the speaker will be Lieut.-Commander Bryant, regional representative of the League of Nations Association. The program is offered by the international cooperation group.

Group meetings for next Wednesday, May 1, will be Mrs. Susie D. Chakurian's international cooperation section in the morning, and in the afternoon Mrs. Sadholdt's group will meet to study the context of the health insurance bill now pending in Sacramento, preparatory to devoting the June general meeting to study of this measure.

The months' activities will close with the executive board meeting the fourth Wednesday, in the morning, and an afternoon session of Mrs. Carl Voss' government and its operation group continuing study of the county set-up, with Mrs. Young in charge.

Attending the board meeting this week were: Mesdames Joseph Schoening, Howard Walters, Karl G. Rendtorff, John Sandholdt, Susie D. Chakurian, Charles Clark, C. A. Shepherd, Harry Lusignan, Mast Wolfson, Andrew Stewart, Misses Clara Kellogg and Helen Davis, and Dr. Amy Hittell.

Place Birds Take In Garden Told

Laidlaw Williams was the speaker at the last meeting of the Woman's club garden section, held April 18 at the home of Miss Anne Grant in Hatton Fields. He gave a delightful talk on the place which birds take in the pattern of the ideal garden. Birds eat insects and trees provide a place for nest, thus completing a happy circle.

Nature's balance is so delicate, said Mr. Williams, that the slightest deviation may cause calamity. As an example, woodpeckers live in dead trees, which are a menace, but woodpeckers also eat the insects which destroy trees.

All birds are not desirable as garden tenants, the speaker pointed out, citing sparrows, linnets and jays as partially or totally destructive. He had a good word to say for hawks and owls, however, as destroyers of rodents.

Importation of foreign birds is not desirable, Mr. Williams believes, nor is it necessary. Why import the English skylark, when the American meadow lark and hermit thrush are equally sweet singers? Foreign species either do not adapt themselves well and die out, or multiply so aggressively that they drive out other birds.

Humane Society to Hold Last Card Party

The Monterey County Humane society will hold the last card part of the series on Friday, April 26 in the home of Mrs. Louise Dobbins, 1003 Franklin street, Monterey, at 8 o'clock.

Tickets can be obtained from Barnett Segal in Carmel and the public is urged to attend as the society is greatly in need of funds due to the additional expenses incurred on account of the rabies epidemic.

Tables will be provided for auction and contract bridge and whist. Prizes will be awarded.

MANY VISITORS AT HOME OF MISS GUSSIE MEYER

The Carmel home of Miss Gussie Meyer has been a busy place this week, with guests from the north coming and going. In the panorama were included Mrs. Irma Randolph of Oakland, who is a teacher of voice and director of several choral groups in the bay cities; her sister, Mrs. Frank Cannon of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barton of Berkeley, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dunn of San Francisco.

Mrs. Byington Ford was in San Francisco for several days last week.

LEAVE TO MAKE THEIR HOME IN HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

After being a resident of Carmel for many years, Mrs. Lillie B. Hanson departed Saturday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Kate Wood, to make her home in Lihue, in the Hawaiian Islands, which is also Mrs. Wood's home. Her residence here was in "Homeburg" on Camino Real. Due to recent frail health, Mrs. Hanson was unable to tell many of her friends of her plans, and news of her departure was a surprise. Mrs. Maude De Yoe drove to San Francisco with the two voyagers, and remained in the city for several days.

Woman's Club Preparing for Final Meeting

Carmel Woman's club is now preparing to conclude its activities for the year. Early in May the last general meeting will be held, for election of officers. Last meeting of the book section will be held next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Girl Scout house. There will be no program, but all members will be present to participate in the auction of the books which the section has bought, circulated, read and reviewed during the past year. Mrs. I. N. Ford, the section chairman, is repeatedly reminding members that it is highly important that all books be returned at this meeting which officially closes the year for the book section.

The garden section will hold its last meeting on Thursday, May 2, at 10 o'clock, at the Briggs residence on Carmelo between Eleventh and Twelfth. Mr. Briggs will give a talk on his cactus garden.

PINE NEEDLES

BECAUSE visitors kept on coming every town and city visited in their after the three-day Easter showing of Miss Josephine Cubertson's paintings at her studio at the corner of Seventh and Lincoln, the show has continued this week. The exhibit was charmingly arranged by Miss Culbertson and Mrs. Louise Hasty. Miss Culbertson's specialty is a detailed and botanically accurate study of flowers, particularly wild blossoms, which she has a knack of arranging with peculiar grace. Several large canvasses are also shown, one an exquisite study of the flower-filled garden in the patio of her studio, another a tranquil scene of countryside under a high-noon sun.

Staying at Hotel Del Monte were Mr. and Mrs. John L. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph St. Claire, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Volkmann, Mrs. J. M. Volkmann, Miss Virginia Volkmann, Mrs. Dudley S. Bates, Miss Barbara Bates, and Mrs. Irene Dernham.

Miss Josephine Heyl entertained most informally Saturday night. Among those present were the Misses Barbara Matthew, Peggy Graham, Patty Coblentz, Judy Dodge, and Josephine Heyl, and the Messrs. Cole Weston and Fred Bryant. Other members of the young set dropped in during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Newman from Sunland, and Mrs. Felix Locher of Hollywood are visiting this week with Helen Vye of the Irene Lucian Shop.

Mills college students who spent the Easter holiday at La Playa hotel were Miss Mary Clark, who has an aunt living here, and Miss Margaret Dolph, whose home is in Portland, Oregon.

A two-day trip to Bakersfield and the wild flower fields was enjoyed last week by Miss Hester Schoeninger, Miss Agnes Williston, Miss Clara Kellogg and Miss Ella Kellogg.

After several months stay at the Monterey Peninsula Country club, Mr. and Mrs. Roland W. White have returned to their home in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Ernest Bixler has gone to Pasadena for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Hill and her daughter, Miss Carol, were in Carmel for Easter week from their home in Altadena. Mrs. Hamilton is assisting her son in making a hobby collection of representative papers of every town and city visited in their frequent travels.

A semi-surprise party for Norma MacDonald and Alma Castro took place last Wednesday in the Big Sur. Present were the Misses Mary Post, Vivian Bell, Dorothy Bell, Anna Fausler, Lucille Castro, Jean McCoy, Eileen Overhulse, Norma MacDonald, and Alma Castro, and the Messrs. Walter Trotter, Frank Trotter, Billy Post, Bill Muscott, Clarence Castro.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Raine from San Francisco are Mrs. Milton Dunlap and her daughter, Judy. Mr. Dunlap is connected with the INS news bureau in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hargrave are at the Clift in San Francisco for a short stay.

Miss Ivy Watson, popular Pacific Grove High School student, is again resuming her class work after an absence of several months, due to illness.

Miss Phyllis Newberry of Oakland visited Florence Lockwood this week.

Leota Miller is spending the week with Alice Meckenstock.

Ex-Service Men's Camp Proposed at Big Sur

Committees of two members each from the Carmel Legion Post, the Monterey Legion Post and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have been appointed to investigate the possibility of securing an ex-service men's summer camp in the Big Sur. The plan is to ask for the use of a small tract of state-owned land with camping facilities where members of the organizations and their families can picnic. Matthew Beaton and William H. LaVelle are on the committee for the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Tom Reilly and G. E. Burnette represent the Carmel Legion Post. Members of the Monterey post committee have not been announced.

CAPT. HUDGINS DELEGATE

Captain Patrick Hudgins has been chosen the delegate of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to the state convention which will be held in Bakersfield in July.

SCREEN WRITER VISITS

Donald Cook, actor and writer for the screen, was a recent guest at Highlands Inn. He is working on a novel at present.

Artist Phil Nesbitt Comments On Work of Sunset School Artists

By PHIL NESBITT

IT has been my great pleasure to see an exhibit of true merit. Fresh, and intelligent . . . all by Sunset school children. The walls are literally papered with the most artful and cunning examples of nonest child drawing. Good drawings, too, for they are done with that instant vigor of the mind in the making. It is wrong to compare these drawings to the work of adults. Adult work is usually so filled with nice legal inhibition and pretty restraint. These drawings by Carmel's children are not restrained, no, they are instead, bursting with the devastating and penetrating insight of the young. Colour that is right . . . for nature does use bright colours . . . old fogies dote on daubing umbers and blacks against canvas (a generalization) and well the children have arranged their colour combinations.

Several years ago, an exhibition was brought to this country, of the work of Viennese school children. It was excellent. It is good to know that this present exhibit at the Sunset school parallels the work of the work of the Viennese children . . . in many cases surpasses it.

Mothers with an understanding of 'why a child likes to draw' will be pleased to know that their children can also draw with intelligent skill, without restraint in imagination, as is well indicated in the Sunset school show.

There are too many noteworthy examples of individual work to mark them here. Carmel should turn out en masse to this exhibit. Carmel, after all, draws the attention of the country, mainly because it is supposed to be a 'creative center,' so try to see that which proves this to be the case; the Sunset school children's exhibit.

Bargains Are Disappearing!

If you want a bargain, particularly if you must have a sight of the Ocean, think over these bargains now. By fall many of them will be off the market.

One we suggest is a most charming small home, with plenty of ground around it, Ocean view, and Carmel spirit pervading the house. Original cost about $14,000; now to be had for about 1/2.

Another is a lot with view of Ocean, Lobos, and mountains. Original listing $2,500, now for a quick buyer, at $1,800.

And a beautifully wooded tract, on a Ravine, and with Ocean view, for $800.

Rental: Unfurnished 5-room house, lease, for $27.50 per month.

Dropping A. B. Ingham off in San Francisco to attend the principal's convention, Mrs. Ingham, daughters, Louise and Elizabeth, and Miss Florence West "gypsied" through the Russian river country and Napa and Sonoma counties, from Monday to Wednesday of last week. They enthusiastically report a gorgeous vista of wild flowers in that section.

Wayne Cowen of Modesto was a visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Farrell. With his sister, Miss Louise Cowen, he traveled to Palo Alto last Thursday, where he played in the Stanford Freshmen tennis match.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McLean of Pacific Grove spent Saturday and Sunday in Pittsburg at the home of Mrs. McLean's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williamson.

William McLean and Joe Cota enjoyed the Easter vacation week camping at Big Sur.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Moore and daughter, Roberta, and son, Austin, were happy inhabitants at their summer cottage in Carmel Valley from Sunday to Wednesday of last week.

Gerald Shea and Wm. Hughes from Los Angeles and Jack Perrin from Redwood City were visitors at the Officers' Club for four days of last week.

Journeying to San Francisco William Crowley visited at the home of his sister and family from Tuesday to Friday of last week.

Donald Mammem celebrated the Easter holidays by sojourning in San Francisco for three days of last week.

Richard Draper, a student of the College of the Pacific returned to his parental abode to enjoy the vacation last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Draper and his sister and brother, Betty and John Edwin.

John Edwin Draper and James Meagher traveled to San Francisco last week to accomplish their radio examination tests.

Miss Elsie Bissett was a visitor in San Francisco last week.

Miss Francis Smith journeyed to Salinas for one day of last week.

Mrs. Elsie Brotherton, instructor of home economics in the Pacific Grove High School, journeyed to Palo Alto with her husband to spend her Easter vacation.

Mrs. Gibney and her daughters, Mary Ann and Jane, found San Francisco delightful last week. The Gibney's are leaving their home in Monterey presidio June 7 for Pittsburgh, Pa., where they will make their home.

Dorothy and Margaret Orchard visited their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Herzog in San Francisco during the Easter holidays.

Jessie Mae Walters from Pismo Beach visited Thelma Philbrick during the vacation.

Miss Adaline Pardini, instructor in the Pacific Grove High School found the Sierra Nevada mountains a welcome change from her task of teaching. She also visited in San Francisco.

Indulging in their desire for a picnic last week Barbara Stutzman, Ruth McIlroy, Jean Perkins, Kenneth McGill, Howard Van Deren, and Harry Diefenbaugh met at the Diefenbaugh home and from their wended their way to the Indian Village where baseball and lunch were enjoyed.

Miss Bernice Phipps, who was well known for her dancing ability while attending Pacific Grove High School, has been selected a member of the "Orchestrator," a famous international dancing society. She invented an original dance and was chosen with eight others from San Jose State College.

The visiting of friends in Oakland and San Francisco took up most of the vacation of Miss Margaret Funness, instructor in girl's athletics in the Pacific Grove High School.

Miss Vega Swift, who instructs English at the Pacific Grove High School, visited mountains, deserts and forests in her vacation trip to Boulder Dam, Death Valley, and Sequoia Park.

Miss Barbara Ingham took advantage of her vacation from school to visit Miss Dorothea Lyman of Berkeley.

The Interracial Friendship Council held its regular meeting Thursday night at the Community Center in Monterey with its president, Miss Evelyn Grantham, presiding.

Mr. and Mrs. William Neunzig and sons, Edward, William and Frederick, spent last week in Bakersfield, where they visited Mr. Neunzig's mother, Mrs. S. Neunzig.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Martin of San Jose were the recipients of a two-day visit from their daughter, Miss Lois Martin.

Mrs. Currier and her son, Kenneth, journeyed to Portland, Ore., to spend Easter vacation with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ingham and family spent the latter part of last week in Carmel Valley.

The N. A. A. C. P. is giving a dinner dance tonight at the Pacific Grove Civic Club from 9 to 12.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Kuther and son, Glenn Howland, spent Sunday in Monterey, seeing the ball game.

Paying a visit to her sister, Miss Camilla Moran, who attends San Jose State, Miss Mary Moran reports an enjoyable week-end.

560 POLK ST. MONTEREY

ANNE CAMERON, creator of the care-free O'Malley family of the Saturday Evening Post series, is making her annual visit to Carmel, where she comes for change of scene, exercise and for work in a new setting. She lives in Riverside, rather than in Carmel, which she loves as only visitors can love it, just for the reason that it provides that much-anticipated annual treat. If you live here you can no longer be a visitor, if you know what we mean.

When Anne Cameron was here last year, she did the opening draft of "The House of Trujillo" which proved to her own satisfaction and that of her public that she is not "just a humorous writer." Yes, people have called her that, in spite of the fact that humor is a gift from the gods, and the highest form of literary art. Just because she is a humorous writer, she yearned to cut her teeth on dramatic stuff. "The House of Trujillo" comes out in book form in a month or so, published by Appleton, and has also been sold to the movies. There isn't a trace of the famous Cameron humor in it, because as she says, there was nothing to be funny about in the story. She worked out an elaborate study of the political situation in a mythical South American republic. Local color was supplied by a trip to Ecuador.

Miss Cameron travels a lot, and was probably the first writer to see literary possibilities in automobile gypsies and auto camps, which are a modern, highly American phenomenon, teeming with human interest. She doesn't go about looking for ideas for stories, but after a good trip she generally finds a story in the back of her mind. Right now she is waiting for another novel to emerge as a result of several months' stay in Mexico.

She was working on a short story in her cottage at Highlands Inn when we went up to see her the other day. Portable typewriter set up on a card table, a sheet of manuscript paper still in the typewriter, crumpled yellow second-sheets in the fireplace. We would like to have read a few lines out of the corner of our eye. She said it is another new departure, something that is not coming easily, but just before we came in she suddenly felt she was on the right track at last, and the story will now "jell." Although she doesn't want to be "typed," she said to our vast relief that she isn't through with the O'Malley family; there will be further chapters in their happy-go-lucky adventures.

You know why Anne Cameron is a humorous writer when you see her eyes. They are brown and twinkly; quick to see the funny side of life's little ironies; keen enough to look beyond to the essential tragedy. She has a slender, sensitive face, tanned to harmonize with a wiry, vigorous slender body, outward evidence of her interest in riding and the other outdoor pursuits she follows mornings in the Highlands and Carmel. From the feminine viewpoint she is one of those fortunate women who matures early and then stays at her prime for years, with little outward change. She is cheerful and informal; fun to talk with.

This year Miss Cameron is cutting her stay short; leaving for Los Angeles the end of this week to meet Adelaide Neall, associate editor of the Saturday Evening Post, who is out here on a flying trip.

BETTY BOSWORTH of Carmel, coed at the University of California College of Agriculture at Davis, has made her mark there as an experienced and accomplished horsewoman. She has bought from the college a fine Arabian saddle horse, Ludor, which she herself broke to the saddle.

Since early childhood Miss Bosworth has been a lover of horses. She remembers places she visited in Europe during a tour in 1925 principally through their association with the horses she saw.

She has been an accomplished rider since she was 10 years of age, when she started receiving instruction from a German riding master in Pasadena.

In 1931 and again last year she spent her vacation period on the cattle ranch of a friend in Arizona. The ranch property extends 40 miles in one direction and ten miles in the other.

Miss Bosworth arose at 4:30 o'clock each morning, helped wrangle the day's horses, aided the cowboys in their labors throughout the day and oftentimes worked until 7:30 or 8 o'clock in the evening.

While at the ranch last year she broke to saddle a colt that had been given her in 1931.

Last January she purchased Ludor, by Salud out of California Nora. She became friendly with the horse and in a short time was seen riding him nearly every afternoon.

OLD Carmelites were interested to hear this week of the marriage of Peggy Palmer, a bright particular star of the village, who went out to make her mark in the world, and Dr. Samuel Burrows, a prominent Chicago physician. The ceremony was performed in New York City, where Miss Palmer has been doing free-lance art work, her most recent commission being the cover for Burton Holmes "The Traveler's Russia," which has just been published.

Miss Palmer is an alumna of The Pine Cone, where she did her first work, writing the column "The Mator Mind," illustrated with her own sketches of village personalities. It was so good that Fremont Older came down and stole her from Perry Newberry, putting her to work on the Call-Bulletin. After her San Francisco experience, she went to Chicago and later to New York, where her clever drawings and facile pen made a place for her in the publishing field.

Sailing immediately after the wedding, the bridal pair will travel in Europe for two months, and then will establish a home in Chicago. Miss Agnes Palmer of the Fraser Loom shop is Peggy's aunt, and her mother, Mrs. Walter Palmer, lives in Ottawa, Ill.

In Pasadena to attend the opening of Martin Flavin's new play, "Achilles Had a Heel," at Pasadena Community Playhouse, with Walter Hampden in the stellar role are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dougherty. They made a brief trip to San Francisco before going south.

Carmel Organized In New Scout District

The Monterey Bay Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, covering the counties of San Benito, Monterey, and Santa Cruz, has extended its organization to include two additional districts. In addition to the five previously organized districts, Hollister, Monterey, Salinas, Santa Cruz and Watsonville, the newly-organized districts are Carmel and Gabilan, the latter including all the communities south of Salinas.

The rapid growth and development of the council during the past year made necessary this extension, and, in addition, necessitated extending the administrative group of the various districts.

Famous Lyric Soprano to Sing at Local Gallery Tomorrow Evening

It is a long time since a singer of the caliber of Marie Montana has sung in Carmel. The Denny-Watrous Gallery is presenting this famous lyric soprano tomorrow evening in a program of exceptional beauty and interest. Margherita Van Loben Sels, whose piano recital last summer will long be remembered, will be at the piano.

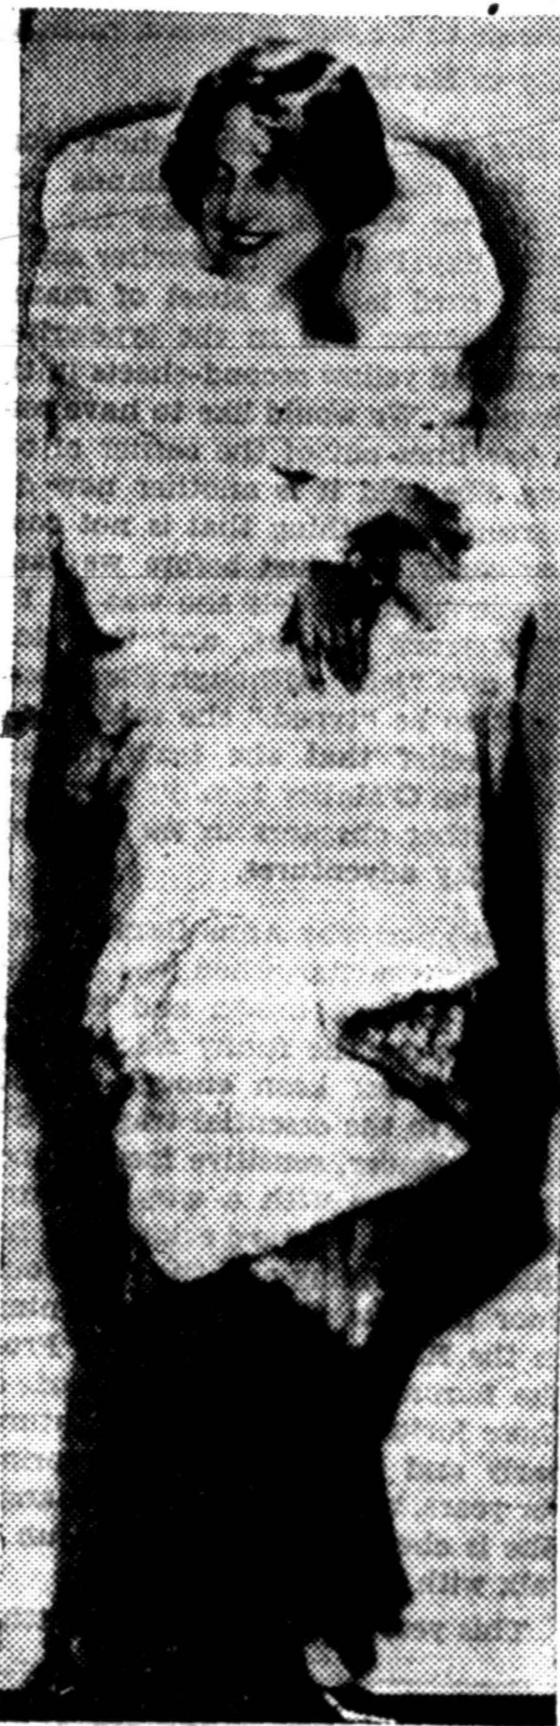

Marie Montana sang in the civic auditorium, Seattle, with the Seattle Symphony Orchestra last January. As she stepped from an airplane she was officially welcomed by the mayor of Seattle and presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

Marie Montana is outstanding among American singers who have "made good." She has sung with leading orchestras throughout the country and in concert. Always her programs are unusually fine, providing a genuine treat for the lover of voice and song. Tomorrow night's program is as follows: "Lungi dal caro bene," (Sarti); "Sommi Del," (Handel); "Nacht und Traume," (Schubert); "Der Nussbaum," (Schumann); "Im Sonntag" (Brahms); "Botschaft," (Brahms); "L'Invitation au voyage," (Duparc); "C'est l'extase langoureuse," (Debussy); "E se un giorno fornasse," (Respighi); "Stornellata Marinara," (Cimara); "T'was on a lovely summer's eve," (Grieg); "To the Children," (Rachmaninoff); "By a lonely forest pathway," (Griffes); "The Seal Man," (Rebecca Clark); "Me Company Along," (Hageman).

ROWELL'S SON HERE

John Rowell, following in the footsteps of his illustrious father, Chester H. Rowell, as a newspaper man, is a Carmel visitor from San Francisco this week. With Mrs. Rowell he stayed at Pine Inn for several days.

Survey of International Affairs Presented by Mrs. Willis G. White

MRS. WILLIS G. WHITE, chairman of the Woman's club current events section, closed the year's activities of the section, as she began it last fall, with a survey of international affairs, at the meeting Wednesday morning at the Girl Scout house. She reviewed the Bolivia-Paraguay struggle in the Gran Chaco, and discussed the European situation, with war clouds thicker, the situation more tense, than it has been at any time since 1914. Again, she said, Germany, with its will to power and desire to dominate Europe, holds the center of the stage; France and Italy, drawing together, again regard England as holding the key position.

Then the speaker turned to the heart of the matter, the munitions industry and its satellites; mines, smelters, banks, which she described as composing a "huge, subversive force, perpetually menacing world peace, and controlled by not more than 25 men." These "merchants of death," with their international network, have in the past, and can again, plunge the world into war.

After Mrs. White's talk, Miss Agnes Williston carried on her discussion of women's activities, which has been her theme in current events work this year, by reviewing the accomplishments of women in aviation, giving the surprising figure of 10,000 women associated with the aviation industry, as pilots, hostesses, and company executives.

Mrs. Clara Beller, who gave a comprehensive review of music activities several months ago, discussed happenings in this field since her previous talk. She gave details of radio programs in which John Charles Thomas and Mario Chamlee are currently appearing, and, in view of Walter Damrosch's recent participation in the Golden Jubilee celebration of the Metropolitan, discussed his contributions to music.

Mrs. Karl Rendtorff was elected chairman of the section for next year.

Five Days More Till Trout Season

Ernie Reeder Unreels Fishy Line

By MONTE CARMELO

"Five more days to wait," Ernest Reeder muttered. The old philosopher slowly saw-sawed a fuzzy white pipe-cleaner back and forth through the bowl of his pipe, keeping one eye on his task and using the other to note the effect of his words.

"As I was saying," he repeated, "we got five more days to wait before the trout season opens. And..."

"I knew what you were getting at," said Bernard Rowntree, looking up from his books in The Pine Cone's new office. "What's the idea of picking on me; why don't you pester somebody else?"

"Beats me the way you fellows get all riled up whenever I start talking trout," Ernie continued, and there were twin twinkles of quiet fun in his kindly eyes. "Yes, sir, you and the editor and Jim Cockburn and all the rest act like you want to chew up all this new furniture whenever I mention the old San Clemente dam or the streams hereabouts."

"Know what's wrong? You're all on needles and pins for May 1 to roll around. If I was to spread a couple of ferns on your desk you'd throw a conniption fit. There's where I got something on you; I get a world of enjoyment out of the anticipation—I can hear the roar and splash of the stream right now."

The blackened pipe having been cleaned to his satisfaction, Ernie slowly filled the bowl, applied a match, and sat a picture of perfect content, blowing wreaths of blue smoke high above his head. It was the first time Ernest Reeder had been in the office since we moved the editorial office.

"Old Doc Staniford takes it harder than any of you," added Ernie. "He's brought out his same old argument again; accuses me of working in hand with the sporting goods houses to boost the crowd. He claims a regular guy can't go out any more without being suffocated in the crowd." Ernie reached into his pocket and brought forth a letter.

"Here's a red-hot wad of sarcasm I got from Doc Staniford. Among other suggestions pertaining to my enthusiasm over the opening of the trout season he says I ought to advertise that Mayor Thoburn will pitch the first salmon egg."

"I'll read you part of his letter; he titles it, 'The Opening Day Trout Parade,' to start from the steps of the 'new city hall' at daybreak.

"First he says: Ernie Reeder, Grand Marshal. Then it goes on like this: Aides—All the Sporting Goods Dealers. First Division—Mayor Thoburn on charger, Charlie Guth and the Legion Drum Corps."

"The rest of his letter is divided up—State Motor Cops to chase trout that get out of bounds. By Ford in charge of trained fish hounds. Dr. John Gray and ambulance with strained nurses to care for those injured in the crush. Motor trucks from the presidio, supply trains, etc."

"Way down at the bottom he says to-wit: 'The parade will head towards the trout streams of California; it is their intention to scatter orange peels and destruction, putting trout fishing on the bum for the rest of the season.'"

"Don't think that Doc is a grouch; he's just trying to act like one. This is one way he has of working off his nervousness waiting for the season to open. Ten seconds after he flips his hook into the first pool he'll forget everything except that this old world is even more beautiful than the Lord expected it to be. The singing trout streams make us all forget the petty mean things of life; that's why it's the greatest sport in the whole world. Why, it even makes Ye Editor there, look human. He's been known to go along a stream a whole day without wopping anybody over the head."

"Five days to wait. Almost time for Ross Bonham to wash his show windows and get some of that tackle on display."

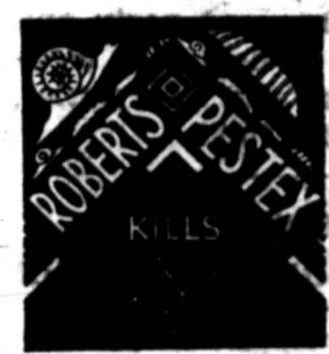

Legion Planning District Meeting

Preparations are being made by Carmel Post of the American Legion for participation in the Thirteenth District meeting of the Legion to be held May 3 and 4 at Monterey. Commander James Regan is expected to appoint local committees this week.

Delegates will be present from every post in the district which extends from Sunnyvale on the north to King City on the south. Five drum corps will appear in the parade in the parade which will be held Sunday through the streets of Monterey to Veterans' Memorial Park where a big barbecue will be held.

After the barbecue the veterans will trek to Carmel to inspect the local post and take in the beauties of the village and its coast line.

Soroptimists Hold Birthday Party

Signally successful was the first annual "birthday party" of the Monterey Peninsula Soroptimist club, held Tuesday evening at Hotel San Carlos in Monterey. Miss Gertrude Rendtorff was chairman, and arranged a program which was thoroughly enjoyed. About 50 attended, among them Soroptimists from Salinas, Watsonville and Santa Cruz. Two district officials were present, Helena Gamble, regional director, and Mae McMillan, executive secretary.

After a number of short talks on Soroptimist ideals, Rev. Melvin C. Dorsett gave a stirring talk on "Service." Vocal selections were given by Dr. Lawrence M. Knox and Mrs. Irma Randolph of Oakland. The club colors, blue and gold, were carried out in the floral decorations, with lupins and calendulas effectively combined.

The club held its usual business meeting Wednesday noon, to make final plans for the card party and bathing review to be held next Wednesday evening at the San Carlos, to swell the charity fund.

Work of Repairing Mission Cornice Begun

Work began Monday on removal of the highly dangerous cornice from the front of Carmel Mission, which has been badly weakened this winter by wear and tear of the elements. The old structure presents a peculiarly foreshortened appearance this week, with its superfluous bonnet removed. Temporary repair work will be effected to join the front to the old roof line. Ultimately the roof line will be lowered to conform to the original design, and no permanent harm will result from the removal of what was a comparatively modern builder's idea of embellishing the facade of the mission.

In case it rains before the roof repairs are completed, the builders have canvas ready to protect the interior from damage.

CARMEL TOWNSEND CLUB FORMED AT SUNSET MEET

A Townsend Club organization meeting was held last night in the Sunset School auditorium, and a large crowd of interested Carmel people attended.

C. D. Drinkhard, prominent banker of Seattle, presided at the meeting and explained the practicability of the Townsend plan from a banker's viewpoint. He laid plans for the formation of the Carmel Townsend Club, showing how to organize and how to "put over" the plan.

More Than Hundred at Anniversary Tea

Guests to the number of 107 greeted Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wilson on the occasion of their 45th wedding anniversary at a tea given Sunday by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Thoburn at their home at Camino Real and Second. Though now residing part of the time in San Mateo, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have lived in Carmel for many years. Many lovely floral tributes from their friends bedecked the rooms where old friends gathered, both afternoon and evening. Mrs. John W. Dickinson presided at the tea urn, and Mrs. P. A. McCreery poured coffee. The two boys of the Thoburn household, Allen McConnell and Jimmy Thoburn, assisted with the serving.

P. G. METHODIST CHURCH PRESENTS FINE ORATORIO

A large chorus directed by Fenton Foster presented the oratorio, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" at the Methodist church in Pacific Grove, Good Friday. Preceding the oratorio were solos sung by Miss Beatrice Harris—"Hosanna"; and Andrew Sessink—"There Is a Green Hill Far Away." Vocal talent for the Easter program was drawn from the entire peninsula.

Auxiliary to Carmel Legion Post Planned

Women interested in forming an auxiliary to Carmel Legion post met at the Manzanita-Legion hall last evening to discuss the matter under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. E. Martin of Carmel Valley, president of the Monterey Legion auxiliary. It was decided to send an application for a charter to the state organization, and efforts will be made to interest others besides the 50 present in joining. All women are eligible who are wives, mothers or daughters of ex-soldiers of the world war, whether or not their male relatives are members of the American Legion. Captain Pat Hudgins of the American Legion is helping the women in the initial steps of organization.

History and Art Honors Stoddard

Memories of a loveable personality, a fine gentleman, and one of California's distinguished writers were stirred at a social meeting of the Monterey Peninsula History and Art Association, held Wednesday evening at El Estero tavern in Monterey to commemorate the 26th anniversary of Charles Warren Stoddard's death. Col. Roger S. Fitch, president, was master of ceremonies, introducing C. Chapel Judson, Mrs. Laura Bridge Powers and Carmel Martin as the chief speakers.

Mr. Judson, in memory of this true bohemian and bon vivant, told of Stoddard's nomination of John of Nipomuck, "the saint who wouldn't tell," as patron saint of San Francisco's Bohemian Club. Mrs. Powers paid a loving tribute to the memory of "the simple poet, who didn't have sense enough to make money, but whose memory is cherished by people who recognized the measure of the man, whether or not they knew his written works."

Carmel Martin told of his association with the writer, during his final days in Monterey. It was his privilege to carry out Stoddard's dying wish to be buried with a tile from Carmel mission beneath his head. During the remainder of the evening others gave intimate glances of Stoddard, his personality and his accomplishments.

Dynamic Review of Situation In Pacific Stirs Missionary Society

LEAVING Carmel Missionary Society distinctly in a mood to "do something about it," Mrs. Lawrence M. Knox gave a dynamic review of the tense situation in the Pacific at the monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at Community church. Most effectively marshalling her material to show the cunning way in which the "inevitability" of war between Japan and the United States is being inculcated as a world-wide attitude she counted the cost of such a war; in billions of dollars, millions of young men dying on Asiatic soil; the collapse of the economic systems of both nations involved; onset of fascist rule in the United States. Such groups as the church organization which she addressed, she said, have a voice which can be heard in pointing out ways and means of avoiding conflict in the Pacific. A friendly agreement with Japan on armaments would help; so would control of the munitions industry, but the speaker said that the bills now before congress for the so-called purpose of "taking the profits out of war" do not provide this protective feature, and have a decided fascist complexion. Naval maneuvers in the Pacific, she said, do not tend to assure Asiatics that our purposes are peaceful.

Mrs. Knox outlined the Chinese political situation of the past ten years with the added advantage of her own stay in China, beginning in 1926. Her speakers were impressed with her forceful delivery and sound grounding in the intricate threads of Oriental intrigue, and the piquant contrast of her evident youth.

At the close of the afternoon Dr. Knox gave an appropriate vocal selection on the theme of peace, which brought to a close one of the society's most effective programs this year.

Mrs. Willis G. White, chairman of the Community church branch of the organization, appointed a committee to effect a closer organization in the society, which is made up of members of All Saints and Community churches, with a view to strengthening the executive branch. On the committee are Miss Agnes Williston, Mrs. Daisy Taylor and

Mrs. Vera Peck Millis. Miss Williston, the secretary, read a report of the accomplishments of the society in its present form for the past year.

Bible Class Given Feast by Teacher

Philathea Bible class, comprised of 40 young women of high school age, is taught every Sunday morning by Silas W. Mack at the Congregational church. Many of the young women from Pacific Grove who have gained distinction in one way or another and have made their mark in the world, attribute their success to the start they attained through attending this class, where not only the bible is taught, but everyday problems are discussed. The Philathea movement was organized in 1907 and the Pacific Grove class is charter number 139.

Every year a banquet is given to the class by Silas Mack. This year the banquet was an outstanding success, having an attendance of approximately 90 people.

CHEYENNE VISITORS GUESTS AT COL. LAWRENCE HOME

Mrs. Wilfred O'Leary, Miss Nooky O'Leary and Miss Susan Grier of Cheyenne, were guests for several days of Col. and Mrs. Charles Lawrence. During their visit here, a Point Lobos picnic was arranged by Miss Charlotte Lawrence for Miss O'Leary and Miss Grier, at which other participants were Nancy and Winifred Stillwell, Lisette Barnes, Thomas Hooper, Phil Nesbitt, Herman Fletcher, William Kneass, Remo Scardigli and Andy Harris.

YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY HAPPY EASTER ON CARMEL BEACH

An octet of young people who managed to spend most of their waking hours together, dancing, swimming, picnicking at the beach, with the Thompson home as their headquarters, had a happy Easter holiday together. Three of the girls, Jean Thompson, Betty Weber and Jean Hobbs, the latter two living in Burlingame, are all Stanford students, joining here Nancy Thompson and the four young men, Spec Watson, Dick Catlett, Henry Hasty and Arne Anderson.

Carmel Pinochlers Play Salinas Team

Eighteen demon pinochle players of the Manzanita-Legion club journeyed to Salinas last week for a hard-fought match with a Salinas team of 18. The result was just about a stand-off, with Carmel winning 1-4, the hosts taking 2-3, out of 40 hands. In the total score out of the 200 hands, Salinas was only 60 points ahead. A challenge has been issued for a return match, to be held in Carmel. Dinner at Santa Lucia Inn preceded the match.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Stone and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd White of San Francisco spent the past week-end with Mrs. E. L. Stone of Carmel.

Danish Pianist Here Next Week

"We must place Gunnar Johansen among the very first of today's great virtuosi," so wrote Selim Palmgren, following Gunnar Johansen's concert in Helsingfors. Equal tribute has been paid him in Berlin, Paris, New York and Chicago; in fact, wherever great virtuosi appear, there Gunnar Johansen has appeared and triumphed. Technically, he must be placed alongside of Josef Hoffman, Rachmaninoff, and other artists of their time.

The Denny-Watrous Gallery announces that Mr. Johansen will give a series of piano recitals, the first on Saturday week, May 4, presenting the same unusually interesting programs which he is playing in Berkeley and San Francisco during the month.

Sunset Planning Spring Carnival

Sunset school reconvened Monday after a week's vacation. With but six weeks now remaining until commencement on June 7, the major activity of the closing period will be the big spring carnival, with P-T. A. and school combining forces to make it "bigger and better" even than the highly successful first annual carnival last year.

May 3 is the date selected for the affair, which will be highly informal, designed purely for fun for all concerned. Funds so raised will be devoted to some worthy school project; last year the health fund was materially benefited as result of the highly successful carnival.

From 2:30 until the end of the afternoon on May 3, the entire school plant will be turned over to merry-making crowds, with all sorts of entertainment provided. The carnival will open with an elaborate parade; first a procession of doll-buggies, with young doll-mothers dressed in their prettiest; next will come a costume parade of various sections, mildly competing for titles of most original national, period, "character" and miscellaneous costumes. Bicycles and tricycles will figure in this procession.

After may-pole dancing the concessions and sideshows will open. There will be an informal concert by the "Hill-billies," augmented by a group doing the Virginia Reel in costumes of the gay nineties. Peep-show, freak show, and various circus acts will provide entertainment.

Readers' Reaction

SERA BLUNDER
Editor The Pine Cone:

This is a statement prompted by the nature of the accusation directed against Mrs. Montague by the SERA. Without benefit of tangible evidence, it appears that Mrs. Montague has been dishonorably discharged.

The rise to power of small individuals invariably occurs through such misdirected energies as the discharge of a succeeding and well-balanced member of a party.

Mrs. Montague's work in the SERA, as the Carmel representative in the art project, has been definitely accomplished with the utmost scrupulousness and care. Mrs. Montague has used the very best of discrimination in placing the work of the artists under the SERA. She has expressed a selective sense and much genuine common sense and good sense. Her affiliation with the project has been a point in its favor, since she offered intelligence and taste to a project which is being rapidly corrupted in a political maelstrom of red tape.

It is expected that the friends of Mrs. Montague will offer a certain militant answer to the totally unfounded action of the SERA potentates.

P. NESBITT.

ANOTHER HOLLER
Editor The Pine Cone:

It is interesting to note the change in the country's idea of religious liberty during the past fifty years.

One of the basic thoughts back of our Constitution is the right of every one to believe or disbelieve any religious creed, to observe or disregard any religious practice, and fifty years ago it was generally agreed that religion had no part in our government or any function of our government—such as schools—that had of necessity to do with people of all kinds of religious beliefs or none at all. In those days there were no Easter holidays observed by our public schools.

It is surprising there is not more protest against the Federal government closing the post offices on the afternoon of Good Friday. As far as is known they have never been closed on the Jewish sabbath (as such) or on any of the strictly observed Jewish religious holidays.

And it is something for Americans to think about when a man's life is put in danger by the closing of a doctor's office and the inactivity of a county governmental department for three hours on a Friday afternoon. An individual may have the right to open or close his place of business as he chooses, but does the same right extend to a post office, a bank, or a public utility or governmental department?

As Christ said, "The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath."

Sascha Wolas Is Given Ovation

By CLARE H. CONE

The first of a series of Friday matinees at the Theater of the Golden Bough was a program presented by Sascha Wolas, Russian violinist, an artist of European prestige but a comparative newcomer in the western world.

Mr. Wolas plays with entire lack of mannerism and with a singing quality of tone, exquisite in pianissimo, tremendous in power that makes his instrument a vibrant living thing and brings warm and prompt response from his hearers.

The first group of Friday's program was a ciaccona of Vitali, and the Symphony Espagnole of Lalo and the artist immediately established himself on a sympathetic footing with his audience.

The next group of Roumanian folk dances were so delightfully interpreted as to give an intimate glimpse of the vagrant moods that inspired them, and in the Nigun of Ernst Bloch which followed, the superb tone, effortless power and exquisite delicacy of brilliant cadenzas evoked prolonged applause.

The Danse Orientale from "Scherzade" by Rimsky-Korsakov, elaborately embroidered by Kreisler was sympathetically played and always has popular appeal. A false note, however, on an otherwise exceptional program was the Fantasia on themes from Faust, a number entirely unworthy of so fine an interpreter.

The accompanist was Miss Eva Garcia, who at all times submerged her own evident virtuosity to the support of the soloist, with fine feeling and complete understanding.

Carmel Man Presides at Scottish Rite Ceremony

The Monterey County Scottish Rite club—18th to 33rd degrees—convened at the Masonic hall, at Pacific Grove, for the purpose of observing Maundy Thursday.

Rev. Berton F. Bronson of King City, delivered the principal address of the evening. W. H. Exley of Pacific Grove had charge of the services and C. A. Watson, of Carmel, was the master of ceremonies. L. C. Fisher of Pacific Grove rendered the solos of the evening accompanied by Charles K. Tuttle, of Pacific Grove, at the organ. Others assisting in the services were: W. C. Buttle, J. C. Greenwald, Christopher Dudley, all of Pacific Grove; A. J. Mason and Nels J. Erickson of Monterey; Arthur C. Drummond and James A. Walker of Salinas.

The following members were present from Carmel: H. E. Farley, Cooper Anderson, Robert F. Haller, C. A. Watson and Grant Wills.

"LAST NOVEMBER I installed an electric range and water heater which were added to my other electric appliances such as a pressure system, radio, electric sewing machine, electric refrigerator, etc.

"In January, 1935, I used 562 KWH., which would have cost me $11.17 under the regular rate. Under the ONE-HALF OFF plan, because my January, 1934, bill was only $4.14—I paid only $7.65. This gave me a saving of $3.52. Again in February, 1935, my bill with the ½ Off discount showed a saving of $3.58.

"During 1934, under the regular rate, my bill for electricity averaged $6.11 per month. Therefore, with the addition of the electric range and water heater, my bill should not average more than $2.50 per month over the monthly bills of 1934."

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF BARGAIN PRICE ELECTRICITY

½ OFF EXTRA Electricity means: When your electric bill in any month of 1935 is greater than your bill for the corresponding month of 1934, at same location, YOU GET A 50% DISCOUNT ON THE DIFFERENCE.

Graduation Pageants State Fair Contest

Many California schools planning graduation pageants and other spring festivities will also use their casts in the new dramatic competition scheduled for the 1935 California State Fair.

Horace E. Thomas, new chairman of the fair's educational department, has made the suggestion to county superintendents throughout the state that schools in their territory follow this practice.

The state department of education is also actively cooperating in making the new drama competition one of the major attractions of the fair.

Prizes totalling $500 have been voted by the state fair directors for this new competition, which replaces the school spelling bees.

K. C. Ingram Named Rail Head's Assistant

K. C. Ingram, for a number of years advertising manager of the Southern Pacific Railway and more recently in an agency of his own, has been appointed assistant to A. D. McDonald, president of the company.

Mr. Ingram lived for many years at Gilroy before entering Stanford University. Following his graduation he went into active newspaper work and for a time was with The Bakersfield Californian and later with the Associated Press. He was succeeded as advertising manager of the railway company by Fred Q. Tredway, also a former Bakersfield newspaper man. Both have friends in Carmel.

Twice-a-Week Radio Schedule

Starting tonight Bob Kinney and his Hotel Del Monte orchestra will settle down to their regular two-a-week radio schedule following their inaugural program last Saturday.

From now on throughout the summer Bob and his boys will be on the air at 9:30 on Fridays as well as 8:30 on Saturdays broadcasting by remote control from the Ball room of the hotel.

The program in which Kinney's orchestra made its radio debut has been applauded by listeners in the four states to which it was relayed. Even before the program was off the air there were telegrams of congratulation pouring in, several hundred being received in all.

The dancers in the Ball room also extended a hearty welcome home to Bob Saunders on his return to the Hotel Del Monte after a successful engagement at the Hotel Mark Hopkins.

Harrison Holliday, KFRQ station manager, and a number of San Francisco radio artists assisted in the inaugural program. They included Jean Ellington, Murray and Harris, and Bee Benaderet.

Noted Harpist and Lyric Soprano Golden Bough Offering This Week

THIS afternoon Ruth Lorraine Close, internationally known harpist, will give a joint recital with Winifred Quinlan, lyric soprano, at Carmel Theatre. This will be the second program on the Golden Bough matinee series, which opened auspiciously last Friday with the recital of Sascha Wolos.

To those who heard her in Carmel a few years ago Ruth Lorraine Close is not a new name. In the interim a world concert tour has occupied the artist, whose home is now in Portland, Ore. The critics of New York, London and Paris have been profuse in their praise of her.

Appearing with Miss Close is Winifred Quinlan, a lyric soprano new to California, though since her advent in Portland she has established a sound reputation over the northwest.

Four o'clock has been set as the hour for these Golden Bough Friday matinees, which at popular admission prices should promptly restore the beautiful auditorium to its pre-depression prestige as a concert hall. Letters from artists all over the world testify to its perfect acoustics and musically sympathetic atmosphere. Plays and foreign motion pictures will alternate with recitals and concerts, the entire series having been made possible through the generous co-operation of the motion picture lessees.

Edward Kuster, designer and owner of Carmel Theatre, which prior to the motion-picture tenancy was known the country over as The Theatre of the Golden Bough, is another ardent supporter of the series, which is sponsored by the Golden Bough Council.

"Instead of folding our hands and lamenting the passing of old Carmel," he says, "we should be aware of the old Carmel that is still within and around us. If the hundreds here who have grown a little tired of commercialism and notoriety and turbulence will make a habit of slipping now and then into the restful quiet of the Golden Bough auditorium at about quarter to four on Friday afternoons, they will share the same rich experiences which have been so much missed these latter years."

Tickets for the Close-Quinlan concert may be purchased at the door, beginning at 3 o'clock.

"SUPERVISING" ART WORK

Carmel has been profoundly disturbed this week by the discharge of Nellie Montague as supervisor of the SERA art project. This incident illuminates the two basic differences of viewpoint in the whole work-relief set-up. Is "emergency relief" to be effected by social service, or is it an accountant's problem? The answer is "both," but the two are extremely difficult to reconcile. Such directorial work as that which Fred Bechdolt is doing in this county is the most onerous peace-time work this country has seen.

The county director—any county director—is conscious of an irate body of taxpayers, more than a little inclined to the attitude that the whole SERA is a "gyp" game of which they are the pained victims. The slightest justifiable criticism of SERA procedure may produce an avalanche accusation of "pampering" the unemployed, of making conditions so easy and pleasant for them that workmen desert the ranks of regular industry, etc., etc. The county director must lean over backward in rigid accounting for his stewardship of public funds, else find himself and the whole program a target for sharp fault-finding.

The other viewpoint is held by those workers who see at first hand the tragic human problems of the SERA clients;—many case workers, and such supervisors as Nellie Montague. They see the situation not in the terms of taxpayers' dollars but as a series of personal tragedies. Their sense of need for rehabilitative measures thrusts into the background their recognition of need for clerical exactitude. This point is mentioned, because the only definite criticism that has been made of Mrs. Montague's work, so far as The Pine Cone has been informed, is that certain forms were not satisfactorily filled out.

Whatever the repercussions of this action of Fred Bechdolt in discharging Mrs. Montague for, from his position, due and sufficient cause, the art project will remain as an enduring monument to Nellie Montague. She has lived it, with a fervor of intense personal devotion which will never be forgotten by those who have known her through this period. Hers was the vision which saw the thing whole; the opportunity to secure art works of enduring value, a personal knowledge of each artist in the corps and how he fitted into the program. She has infused a group of highly gifted and economically desperate creative workers with her own bright ideal. They have felt not that they were receiving a hand-out, but that they were creating beauty for all the people; that the government was acting as a patron of the arts, not as a niggardly dispenser of charity.

She has labored hard and long, with a spiritual enthusiasm and energetic drive that have often overtaxed her physically. It is highly doubtful if any person could be found to supervise the project who would have embodied the exact blend of clerical efficiency, artistic insight and spiritual leadership. To give government relief work to artists is an almost impossible blending of the ideal with the practical. To Carmel, and to the artists, Mrs. Montague seemed eminently suitable for this difficult position.

For any person to be removed from a job to which she has given so much is a profound psychic shock. To many of the artists who have been working with Mrs. Montague her removal is in the nature of a catastrophe. Art work cannot be regimented and supervised in the same way as roadwork and carpentry. As a filler of forms, Mrs. Montague may leave much to be desired, but it will be difficult, if not impossible to find anyone else to carry on with the same spirit.

CALIFORNIA

*Though many bards have sung your praise
 In verse and anthem'd song,
 I kneel, a suppliant, at your shrine
 Your praises to prolong.*

*Your groves of redwood, oak, and fir,
 Your palms, with courtly air
 Wave over motley colored fields
 Of flowers, the seasons wear.*

*I ere flow the quivering little brooks
 From out the heart of you,
 That carry gold in precious sands,
 Your life blood old and new.*

*And in this garden of delight,
 Where fruits and nuts abound,
 Rise domes beyond the orange groves
 Snow-capped the whole year round.*

*Your rivers willing converts flow
 To make the desert glad;
 Now arid plains of sun-scorched brown
 Are grape and melon clad.*

*Here grandeur in a paradise
 Has answered beauty's call
 In forest isles, on rugged peaks,
 By murmuring water fall.*

*And old Pacific onward rolls
 Taking to foreign strands
 Your wealth of commerce until Time

—MYRTLE ALICE McCARCY.

Here's Looking at You

By LOIS COLLINS PALMER

ONE sound Carmel community enterprise in which Carmel's famous belligerence has never manifested itself is the orchestra. Here is an ideal situation, a group of people working together harmoniously for a group objective. It would do our various rugged individualists good to attend a few rehearsals; to see these people of all ages happily sawing, blowing, pounding away to make music together, with no thought of individual glory.

If Carmel could be persuaded to get together and foster the activities of the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra Association it might come to be that very focal point for a united community spirit for which this department has been plugging. It has already drawn to its support a goodly number of people who cannot play or sing a note themselves. They are not interested so much from a "cultural" standpoint as they are infused with the enthusiasm which the musicians bring to their weekly rehearsals and their occasional public appearances.

Such groups of professional and amateur musicians as the local orchestra are keeping alive and reviving love and understanding of good music. They are showing that music is a part of life, that it is a fine personal experience, not just something you draw out of the air by turning a dial. Next best thing to making music yourself is helping to build up a fine community orchestra. To sit in at rehearsals is to come to a better understanding of orchestral music. You see how the parts are put together, how the themes are developed by the director's magical ability to draw out just what he wants the music to say.

The best way for all Carmel to have a share in building up the community orchestra is to help financially. Wisely, the orchestra would rather have small contributions from a great many people who will take a continuous interest in the orchestra, than large contributions from a few people who would come to regard the orchestra as their personal toy. This is a highly democratic project. Let's make our contributions so spontaneous and so numerous that the orchestra will have the actual, living sensation of a community strongly behind them and intensely interested in its achievements. Let's make it a point to attend the Sunday evening rehearsals. There is a warm, lively spirit of happy effort and achievement abroad in the Denny-Watrous Gallery on those evenings that does much to wipe out the bad taste of other, more raucous public gatherings.

DICTATOR IN AMERICA?

Let it not be forgotten by those who are wondering "where is all this work-relief leading us; where is it going to end?" that this program is a bulwark against revolution. It has given hope to the disinherited and kept them quiet while waiting "the upturn." It is a question how much longer it will keep them quiet. An American with four children will not be satisfied forever to work for $42 a month. The spirit of revolution is definitely abroad, and it is not all fostered by the communists, though it is probable that a small, well-trained unit of communist executives would be quick to seize the leadership of a spontaneous revolution if they could not stir up one.

A story comes from a remote northern county where public relief is not well organized. It is told by a woman who has done some private welfare work among stranded, hopeless miners. A man she was visiting said to her: "When the revolution comes"—not "if" the revolution comes, notice—"there is just one job I want, and that is to be executioner. I've got my axe all sharp and ready." He showed it to her, razor keen. "I just want to tell you that your neck won't be cut, because you are one of the rich who has been kind to the poor people."

This man had never talked to a communist, had never read any radical literature. This is an example of the spontaneous revolutionary spirit against which the SERA is our only defense at present. Solution of basic economic problems is not keeping pace with this growing discontent.

There is no doubt that a fascist coup d'etat is just as imminent as a revolution of the dispossessed, and that revolt of any serious proportions would precipitate it. As in Europe, it will be justified as defense of property, life and government against communistic destruction. But it will not work in America, and it will bring bloody trouble. We must remember that the European dictators, fascist, communist or nazi, are not deviating radically from tradition. Governments have usually been harsh and oppressive in Europe. There has been no tradition, only tentative gropings, toward Democracy. A Stalin is not more of a tyrant than a czar; a Hitler is only a Hohenzollern with a few modern embellishments.

But America? With 250 years of rugged individualism in the background, and no experience with a strong central government? America accept a dictatorship, of fascist big business or communist doctrine? The idea is not only noxious, it is impossible. Americans are fighters. Mostly they have fought single-handed against the forces of nature, but for their democracy they will fight side by side, against anything which menaces it. If a dictator or a dictatorial group gains control in this country it will rule dead Americans and a land laid waste.

A GENTLE REMINDER

The trout fishing season will open as usual on May 1. This is just a gentle reminder to disciples of Isaac Walton that fishing licenses are now available at most sporting goods store and at the county clerk's office in Salinas.

Anglers will do well to provide themselves with the slips of paper and the attractive button that goes with them before venturing onto the streams and lakes, to participate in their piscatorial pastime because they will be plenty of game wardens to ask you to show your license.

We might add that it is impossible to "fix" a warrant charging fish and game law violations.

A scavenger hunt was started by Eddie Burns (the younger) at the Burns home last Tuesday night, after which a buffet supper was served. Those who made futile and successful searches for such articles as a cat, a pair of false teeth, a nickel from a stranger, red flannels, a napkin from Del Monte and railroad spikes were: the Misses Betty Rae Sutton, Pat Millington, Mary Ann Harrington, Adele O'Byrne, Alice Meckenstock, Lila Cowell, Phyllis Bishop, and the Messrs Eddie Burns, Ted Ziel, Ted Hare, Bill Hohneman, Ed Hilby, Gordon Darling, and Norman Skadan.

The P-T. A. of Monterey Union High School tonight and Saturday sponsors the presentation of "Rafferty Racket," a comedy-mystery-melodrama, the profits to go toward paying for a water-wagon for the school. The performance begins at 8 o'clock in the music room. Cast includes Marjorie Lockwood, Joe Schoeninger, Phyllis Stanley, Vernon Wills, Dorothea Vance, Beulah Beach, LeRoy Bowen, Dean Hansberry, Gordon Darling, Pauline Sandholdt, Elaine Larson, Jane Peall, Mary Poulos, Shirley Lehman and Jack Uzzel.

Several local Rainbow girls journeyed to Oakland last week for the grand assembly of their organization. They were Marcia Frisbee, Lorraine Mason, Dorothy Bergquist, Mildred von Protz, Mildred Raymond, Eva Ely, Beth Gilmer, Lorraine Borchers, Ruth Benadom (a grand officer), Jean Basham, Nina Stahl. They were accompanied by Mrs. R. Frisbee.

Miss Ena Hoig, biology teacher at Monterey high school, went to Los Angeles, Coalinga, and the Tehachapi region during the Easter holiday to make a study of wild flowers and birds.

Amelia De Vito of Pittsburg visited Virginia and Kathryn Ferrante this and last week.

Miss Anne Norwood, dramatic coach at Monterey high school, spent most of last week at Big Bear lake, near Lake Arrowhead.

Harold Young of Los Angeles, formerly of Pacific Grove, spent last week on the peninsula.

Shirley Cress of Boulder Creek visited Shirley Smith of Monterey last week. They are namesakes.

Mrs. Maria R. Sandholdt and her granddaughter, Pauline Sandholdt, spent Easter week in Watsonville.

Three Teams In Abalone League Are Now Tied In First Bracket

By "DOC" STANIFORD

LISTEN, my children, the stern father said. "Who is the stern father?"—"Charlie Van Riper!" Well what happened, the young children asked? Well, old man Van Riper said: "I just buried a skunk!" Well poor Charlie Van did the best he could, but he had to sneeze and put his back on the bum. The moral of this story is—Don't bury skunks—leave 'em lay! Anyway, we had some baseball games, and I am glad Charlie told me about that skunk, because that helped the umpires. We had a very peaceful day.

The Pilots lost to the Giants, 9 to 4. Rosy Henry pitched a good game and the Giants managed to bunch their hits well so they coasted in to a very easy victory. The Tigers, formerly the Blues, gave the Shamrocks a very unhappy Easter Sunday and when the eggs were finally put in the old bread basket we found the Tigers had 14 and the Shamrocks only 4. This makes the league all tied up in a bunch—three teams, the Pilots, Giants and Shamrocks all tied for first place.

Dance Recital To Be Held at Holman Solarium

A dance recital by the pupils of Ruth Austin will be one of the outstanding attractions at the Shirley Temple birthday party which will be held Saturday afternoon in Holman's solarium. The event is sponsored by the cradle corner of Holman's.

A kiddies fashion show in which Shirley Temple dresses and other spring and summer creations will be modeled will be held during the "birthday party." The affair will begin at 2 o'clock. Many well known Carmel children will participate, including Babette De Moe, daughter of E. O. Fokien, Roe Marie Mattimore, daughter of Richard Arlen, movie star, and many others.

Ruth Austin has conducted her school of the dance in Carmel for the last three years and has presented many interesting and entertaining programs during that time.

The tap dancers are trained by Betty Carr, and Mary Ingels Cowan is the accompanist. The program will be: Amariyllis, danced by Cynthia Klein; Betty's music box by Mary Jean Elliott and Craig Short; tapping twins by Babette De Moe and Patty Lou Elliott; tap dance by Roe Marie Mattimore; gypsy dance by Betty Glib; Tcherpini suite by Jean Well, Babette De Moe, Roe Marie Mattimore, Carol Bailey, Patty Lou Elliott, Natalie Hatton, Margaret Dorrance.

UNEMPLOYMENT AND LEISURE SOCIAL CREDITORS' THEME

The Social Credit group met in Sunset schol last Thursday evening and discussed "Unemployment and Leisure." Those present who had ever been unemployed and seeking the means of survival through paid employment agreed that the hardest work they ever did was that of seeking work, and that they were certainly not idle during that time. On the other hand the leisured man, his economic needs satisfied, was seen to be free to indulge in idleness should he so choose.

It was agreed that man has largely accomplished his age-old objective of ridding his back of necessary toil and it now remains to so arrange the money system that the nation can benefit from its power-age efficiency instead of suffering want in the midst of plenty.

Subject for last night's meeting was "Social Credit and Labor."

NEEDLES

At the home of Mrs. Mary Herick Ross on Camino Real, Rev. Melvin C. Dorsett performed the marriage ceremony on Saturday at 1 o'clock which united Miss Virginia Elizabeth Ross and James Duncan MacDonald, both of Piedmont. Mrs. Ross, of Piedmont and Carmel, is the grandmother of the bride. Her father, Colm A. Ross of Piedmont, was also present. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald have not decided where they will reside, and are considering making their home in Carmel.

On the guest list at Hotel La Ribera over Easter and this week are Mrs. Betty Horst of San Francisco, a frequent visitor here; a Los Angeles party including Mrs. Force Parker, Mrs. A. S. Cummings and Mrs. W. F. Howard; another group from the south, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bunnell and Mrs. Edward Livingston of Los Angeles, with an eastern guest, Miss Grace Kreitner; Mrs. L. D. Garth, who is now en route back to New York after an extensive western tour; Miss Alice Barkley and Miss Bertha Leeds of San Francisco.

Miss Adelaide Bartelme and Miss Dorothy Ledyard of the Highlands have returned from a delightful trip into the wild flower country, from Bakersfield to Death Valley. The desert flowers are now equal in grandeur to the spectacular displays of Kern county, they report. They particularly enjoyed the trip through Kern River Canyon, which is one of the few passes through the Sierra connecting the San Joaquin Valley with the Mojave desert and while little known, is one of the state's chief scenic drives.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Barclay of Pebble Beach, who sailed recently for China, will live for the next year in Peking, according to word received by friends. Mrs. Barclay is the mother of Mrs. W. W. Crocker.

Miss Ethel E. Magee, a high school teacher of Los Angeles, is convalescing at La Ribera after a severe illness.

Mr. and Mrs. George Singletary and their two daughters, of San Jose, who were here over Easter, expect to return to spend the summer. So do Mrs. M. R. McGrath and her son, Phillip, of Oakland, who were also at La Ribera over the holiday.

Mrs. Brandon Watson of the Berkeley Woman's City Club and Mrs. H. Miller of Stanford were at Pine Inn for several days this week.

A San Jose family party including Mrs. Henry B. Martin, Mrs. Ernest P. Lion, Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Lion and Scheller Martin were at Pine Inn for Easter.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Magee at their Pebble Beach home were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hill Vincent, who have been spending the winter in San Mateo but will leave soon for Biarritz.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Barnett and her daughter, of San Mateo, made La Ribera their headquarters while visiting friends here for several days.

Mrs. S. F. Dutton had as week-end guests in her home at the Highlands her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Dutton of Berkeley.

Mrs. N. H. Nelson, who has been living at Pine Inn this winter to be near her son, Niles H. Nelson, Jr., engineer at the Big Sur COC camp, has accompanied him to Redding, as a result of the removal of the camp to northern country.

Back from a week's trip to Palm Springs are Mrs. Irwin Barbour, and her two sons, her mother Mrs. F. D. Naylor of the Country Club, and her sister, Mrs. F. J. Nicholas and her small son of San Francisco.

Mrs. Caroline A. Pickit of Peter Pan Lodge was in Pasadena this week to see the opening of "Achilles Had a Heel." Others from the peninsula who saw the Flavin play with Walter Hampden in the lead were Mrs. E. C. Marble of Carmel Valley, Mrs. Gwendolyn M. Stearns of the Point, and Henry H. Wehrhane of Pebble Beach.

Two newly-married couples are this week at Highlands Inn, that famous retreat of brides and grooms. They are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ausenberge, who were married in Oakland Sunday, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Greenbaum. Mr. Greenbaum is an official of one of the large Los Angeles department stores.

At their home in the Highlands for an intensive period of writing are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Benedict. She is better known by her professional name, Elsie Lincoln Benedict, the psychologist. They collaborate in their numerous writings, and are here for several quiet weeks of work.

Guest of Noel Sullivan for several days during the past week was Ramon Navarro, on his way back to Hollywood after a San Francisco visit. The screen star has severed his connections with MGM and is producing his own pictures, about to start production on "Against the Current," which he wrote, for Latin-American release. He is not appearing in the picture.

Among the guests at Peter Pan Lodge in the Carmel Highlands are Lindsey Scrutton, Miss Marion Huntington, Miss Sara Keeble, and Henry L. Slosson, of San Francisco; Charles A. Slosson, of Greenwich, Conn.; James F. Munnaugh, of New York City; Mrs. John Brockway Metcalf, of Piedmont; and Miss May Sebring, of Oakland.

At Del Monte Lodge for the Easter holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ducate, Mrs. J. A. Buck, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Buckley, Jr., Mrs. Charles M. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Luman Carter Gilman (on their honeymoon), Jackson Dorn and Lewis M. Norton of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Ede of Berkeley, who were married in the bay city last Tuesday, are at Pine Inn on their honeymoon.

After wintering at Pine Inn, as is her custom, Miss Mary J. Wilkeson left this week for her summer home in Buffalo, N. Y., via Hollywood, where she will visit for a few days.

Recent guests of Mrs. Vera Peck Millis and Miss Glenna Peck were her brother, Jay Lynn Peck of Los Angeles, and his daughter, Betty Jane.

Miss Leisel Wurzmahn spent the latter part of this week in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Osgood and their family of San Francisco are in the village for a week's holiday.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Morgan have returned to San Francisco after passing several weeks here.

As is their annual custom, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Patton were down from San Jose with their children for Easter week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Brown of Sacramento, where he is a leading attorney, are at Pine Inn with their two sons for a ten-day stay.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wright are at Highlands Inn for their usual stay on the occasion of their wedding anniversary. Their home is in Hollywood.

Easter week guests at La Playa hotel included K. Hart Smith, son of George Smith, manager of Hotel Mark Hopkins in San Francisco, accompanied by Willard Baxter; Mrs. J. C. Eames, Jr., and her daughter, Betty of Berkeley; Miss Phoebe Barkan and Mrs. C. M. Meyer of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Brush of San Francisco and their children, Gerald and Elizabeth; Mrs. Louis Einstein and Miss Elsa B. Einstein of Fresno; Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hinman and their sons of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Liebes, their daughters, Barbara and Patricia, of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lillenthal of Burlingame and their children; Dr. and Mrs. Don Weaver of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Zellerbach of San Francisco.

Another party which made the trip to the flower country last week included Miss Ruth Inglis, Miss Ruth Higby, Miss Clara Hinds and Mrs. Mary R. Kern.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bigelow of West Chop, Mass., stayed at La Playa hotel during a visit in Carmel.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Hancock came down from Piedmont for Easter week at their Highlands home.

Mrs. Gerald C. Young of Los Angeles is at Hotel La Ribera for three weeks.

Miss Ruth Radcliff spent the holidays in San Francisco, Berkeley, and Sacramento.

Miss Lauran Van Wyck Chinn returned to San Francisco after spending the week-end with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Austin B. Chinn.

Prizes Donated for Card Party

All prizes and refreshments have been donated for the benefit card party to be given for the old Mission repair fund next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at Pine Inn. This is the first card party given by the men's organization of the mission parish, the Holy Name society, and in order not to be completely outstripped by the active and successful women's organization, every effort is being made for the success of the affair. A strictly masculine practicality is reflected in the choice of prizes, which start with $10 for first prize; $5 second; a turkey for third and a beef roast next down the line, with others in proportion.

However, on the ticklish point of refreshments, the men thought it well to evoke the cooperation of the women, so Mrs. J. Machado, Mrs. A. Kramer, Mrs. M. Rior-dan, Mrs. Harry Geim and Mrs. L. Althea McGarraugh have come forward to help with the preparation of sandwiches, cake and coffee for the players.

Tickets for the party are on sale at Staniford's and Stella's dry goods store.

FREE COOKING SCHOOL IS SCHEDULED FOR HOLMAN'S

Women of the peninsula are invited to attend the free cooking school which will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in the home furnishings department of Holman's store in Pacific Grove. The school will be conducted by Miss Myrtle Johnston, well-known home economist. New recipes, newest methods of serving food and the latest short cuts in preparing meals will be demonstrated by Miss Johnston. The school will begin at 2 p. m. each afternoon.

Debris Cleared From Hurricane Point Slide

Work of clearing the debris caused by a huge slide on the Carmel-San Simeon highway at Hurricane Point last week is progressing under the supervision of "Ban" Handley, manager for M. J. Murphy, Inc., contractors.

It was anticipated that a roadway 12 to 15 feet wide will be cleared by this week-end. It is estimated that there were about 7000 cubic feet of gravel and boulders covering the road following the slide.

During clearing operations traffic was being detoured over the old road branching off at Bixby creek bridge and hitting the new road again at Big Sur.

TO DEFEND TITLE

Sunset school's baseball team will defend its title as leader of the grammar school league in a game with Monterey grammar school team this afternoon. The B teams will also tangle.

GIRL BORN

A daughter, Geraldine Lola, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hodges of Lakeside Wednesday at Peninsula Community Hospital. Her weight was 6 pounds, 11 ounces.

Hectic Days Sleepless Nights

Miss Currier relieved of nervous days and sleepless nights.

Christine Lanier finds Nervine best nerve medicine she ever used.

Miss Redman takes Dr. Miles Nervine when she feels restless.

IF YOU are nervous today, you probably will not sleep well tonight. If you don't sleep well tonight, you will probably be nervous tomorrow.

Don't allow yourself to become nervous. Take Dr. Miles Nervine. It will relax your tense nerves and let you get a good night's sleep.

Irritability, Restlessness, Sleeplessness, often lead to Nervous Headache, Nervous Indigestion, Hysteria—sometimes to a nervous breakdown and organic trouble.

Some of the people, whose letters are printed below, were as nervous as you are—possibly more so—yet they have found relief.

Three years ago I was so nervous I could not bear to go out in company and could not sleep nights. A friend recommended Dr. Miles Nervine. I now enjoy myself thoroughly and sleep every night. Miss Juliette Currier, New Market, N. H.

I have used Dr. Miles Nervine in liquid form and find it the best medicine for the nerves I have ever used. Christine Lanier, Middleton, Tennessee

Whenever I have over-indulged and feel restless I take one or two Nervine Tablets just before I retire. In the morning when I awake I feel like a new person and can go about my work as usual. Dr. Miles Nervine Tablets quiet your nerves, brace you up and are the simplest, most convenient tablets to take I have ever found. Miss Grace Redman, St. James, Minn.

Before using your Nervine I was very nervous and irritable. Since I have started to take it I feel so much better that my family notice the difference. I still take it from time to time and the good result is wonderful. J. H. Redding, 1027 18th Ave., Rock Island, Ill.

Mr. Redding. His family appreciate his improved disposition.
